Description

- Recent complete nut and bolt restoration - Numbers matching - Original colors - Porsche factory C.O.A (certificate of authenticity) - Early 1969 production 1-8-1969 This is one of the finest examples you may ever find. This 1969 911T Targa had a complete restoration around 2016. There was no expense spared in this museum quality nut and bolt restoration and you can tell from the flawless Blood Orange Code 6809 paint to the new plush leather seating inside. Pictures do this beauty no justice, the tangerine paint compliments this car perfectly and body gaps are spot on. What really sets this car apart from all the rest is the attention to detail in the engine compartment and underside.
