Description

The Audi R8 V10 Manual represents one of the most significant performance cars of its era, bringing together Audi's quattro engineering expertise with a naturally aspirated V10 engine derived from the same family of powerplants found in Lamborghini's contemporary supercars. When launched, the original R8 established Audi as a serious contender in the supercar market, combining exotic performance and dramatic styling with the everyday usability and build quality for which the marque is renowned. This 2009 example, finished in Brilliant Red, is particularly appealing for its combination of the potent 5.2-litre V10 and the increasingly sought-after six-speed gated manual transmission. In an era when automated dual-clutch gearboxes have become the norm, the manual R8 offers a more involving and traditional driving experience, with its exposed metal gear gate providing a wonderfully tactile connection between driver and machine. Combining quattro all-wheel drive, a sensational naturally aspirated soundtrack and unmistakable supercar proportions, the early V10 R8 has become an increasingly desirable modern classic. The six-speed manual gearbox adds an extra dimension to the experience, rewarding precise gear changes and allowing the driver to make the most of the engine's character. Combined with quattro all-wheel drive and a mid-mounted powertrain, the R8 delivers formidable traction, confidence-inspiring handling and the unmistakable soundtrack of a naturally aspirated ten-cylinder engine. EXTERIOR SPECIFICATION: Brilliant Red Paintwork Gloss Carbon Fibre Sideblades Full Paint Protection Film LED Daytime Running Lights Xenon Headlights Grey Lightweight Alloy Wheels with Diamond Cut Face High-Performance Braking System The original R8 remains one of Audi's most recognisable designs, with its low-slung stance, wide proportions and distinctive sideblades immediately setting it apart. Finished in Red, the car's sharp body lines and dramatic mid-engine profile take centre stage, while the purposeful front end and muscular rear styling deliver the presence expected of a true V10 supercar. The cabin combines the quality and refinement expected of a premium Audi with the focused layout of a genuine supercar. The manual transmission is particularly significant, adding an analogue element that makes every drive more engaging. CHASSIS & ENGINEERING: The first-generation R8 was engineered around a sophisticated Audi Space Frame aluminium chassis, providing a lightweight and rigid foundation for its mid-mounted V10 engine. Developed with extensive input from Audi's motorsport programmes, the R8 combines an advanced chassis with permanent quattro all-wheel drive to deliver exceptional composure and performance. Its 5.2-litre V10, aluminium space-frame construction and permanent quattro all-wheel drive created a formidable package that could compete with established Italian supercars while offering a uniquely Audi interpretation of performance.
