Description

1993 Jaguar XJ220 – 169 Miles From New – Never Registered Silverstone Green Metallic | Sand Leather | Right-Hand Drive | 1 of Only 69 RHD Examples | Don Law Recommissioned A once-in-a-lifetime opportunity to acquire an unregistered, delivery-mileage Jaguar XJ220, preserved in a private collection for over three decades and presenting in what can only be described as factory-fresh condition. The Jaguar XJ220 remains one of the most iconic and significant British supercars ever produced. Conceived as the ultimate expression of Jaguar's engineering ambition, it combined extraordinary performance, groundbreaking construction and breathtaking design to become one of the most celebrated supercars of its generation. With just 281 production examples manufactured between 1992 and 1994, including only 69 right-hand-drive cars, the XJ220 is an exceptionally rare and increasingly significant collector's motor car. However, even amongst such an exclusive production run, the example we are delighted to offer at Kaaimans International is truly extraordinary. Finished in its original factory colour combination of Silverstone Green Metallic with Sand Leather upholstery, this remarkable right-hand-drive XJ220 has covered just 169 miles from new and has never been registered for road use. Over Three Decades in a Private Collection – An Extraordinary Story of Preservation Manufactured in July 1993, this exceptional Jaguar XJ220 has enjoyed a life quite unlike the vast majority of its counterparts. Whilst most XJ220s were purchased to experience the extraordinary performance and engineering that made them among the fastest road cars in the world, this particular example was destined for something entirely different. For over three decades, the car formed part of a private collection, carefully preserved and protected from the passage of time. Rather than accumulating mileage on the open road, this remarkable Jaguar was retained as an important collector's motor car, allowing it to survive in an extraordinarily original and beautifully preserved condition. An interesting and particularly distinctive detail is the 088 designation displayed on the car's original sill plates. The number 8 holds considerable significance in Chinese culture, where it is traditionally associated with prosperity, wealth and good fortune. The double 8 in 088 is therefore particularly auspicious, adding another fascinating element to this already extraordinary collector's car. The result is something quite exceptional. More than 33 years after leaving Jaguar's production facility, the car has covered an astonishing 169 miles from new. Its original Silverstone Green Metallic paintwork, beautifully preserved Sand Leather interior and exceptional overall presentation are a testament to the care and attention it has received throughout its life. The expression factory fresh is frequently used to describe exceptional collector cars, but rarely does it feel more appropriate than when viewing this particular XJ220. Importantly, this is not a car that has been extensively restored to recreate its former glory. It is a remarkably original example that has survived more than three decades in a private collection, retaining the character and presentation of a virtually new motor car. Perhaps most extraordinary of all is that the car has never been registered for road use. This presents its next custodian with the remarkable opportunity to become the first registered keeper recorded on the vehicle's V5C registration document, subject to completion of the applicable DVLA first-registration requirements. For a supercar manufactured in 1993, such an opportunity is almost unheard of. Expert Recommissioning by Don Law Racing One of the most important aspects of this particular XJ220 is the specialist attention it has received from Don Law Racing, internationally recognised as one of the world's foremost Jaguar XJ220 specialists. With decades of experience maintaining, restoring and developing these extraordinary cars, Don Law Racing possesses an exceptional understanding of the model and its complex engineering. Following more than three decades of preservation in a private collection, the car has benefited from an extensive and sympathetic recommissioning programme, carefully addressing the mechanical requirements associated with such exceptionally limited use. The objective throughout has been to preserve the remarkable originality of this XJ220 whilst ensuring that its mechanical components receive the specialist attention appropriate for such an important motor car. Unlike a conventional restoration, where the aim is to return a previously used vehicle to its former condition, this programme has focused on preserving an extraordinarily original, delivery-mileage example. The involvement of Don Law Racing provides considerable reassurance and further enhances the appeal of this remarkable Jaguar. Remarkable Originality and Preservation What makes this particular XJ220 so special is not simply its exceptionally low mileage, but the extraordinary condition and originality that accompany it. The Silverstone Green Metallic paintwork is understood to be original, retaining the beautiful factory finish that makes this colour one of the most desirable choices for the model. The Sand Leather interior is equally remarkable, presenting in a condition entirely consistent with a car that has covered so few miles. From the distinctive wraparound dashboard and original Alpine audio system to the beautifully sculpted exterior bodywork, the car retains the unmistakable character of Jaguar's legendary 1990s supercar. Everywhere you look, the level of preservation is extraordinary, offering a rare opportunity to appreciate the craftsmanship, materials and design details as Jaguar originally intended. This is not simply a low-mileage Jaguar XJ220. It is an extraordinary example of automotive preservation, offering factory-fresh presentation more than three decades after its manufacture. The Jaguar XJ220 – A British Engineering Icon Originally developed by Jaguar Sport in collaboration with Tom Walkinshaw Racing, the XJ220 was one of the most ambitious automotive projects of its era. Its dramatic aerodynamic bodywork, advanced aluminium construction and formidable twin-turbocharged V6 engine combined to create a supercar capable of performance that remains extraordinary even by modern standards. Producing 542 BHP from its 3.5-litre twin-turbocharged engine, the XJ220 was capable of accelerating from 0–60 mph in approximately 3.6 seconds and achieving speeds in excess of 210 mph. At the time, it briefly held the title of the world's fastest production car, establishing itself amongst the greatest supercars ever created. Today, the XJ220 is celebrated not only for its breathtaking performance but also for its historical importance, engineering ingenuity and unmistakable design. A Once-in-a-Lifetime Opportunity At Kaaimans International, we have been fortunate enough to handle some of the world's rarest and most significant motor cars, but opportunities to acquire something as extraordinary as this Jaguar XJ220 are exceptionally uncommon. Consider the combination: - One of only 281 production Jaguar XJ220s. - One of just 69 right-hand-drive examples. - Original Silverstone Green Metallic with Sand Leather. - Just 169 miles recorded from new. - Never registered for road use. - Preserved in a private collection for over three decades. - Factory-fresh presentation and exceptional originality. - Sympathetically recommissioned by renowned XJ220 specialist Don Law Racing. - Opportunity to become the first registered keeper on the V5C, subject to DVLA requirements. - Supported by specialist documentation. There are many exceptional Jaguar XJ220s in private collections around the world, but very few can offer this remarkable combination of mileage, originality, preservation and specialist involvement. For the discerning collector, the opportunity to acquire a 1993 Jaguar XJ220 with just 169 miles, never previously registered and preserved in a private collection for over three decades is something truly special. A factory-fresh, delivery-mileage example of one of the greatest British supercars ever created. An extraordinary piece of Jaguar history and an opportunity that may never present itself again. --- Vehicle Specification | Year | 1993 | | Model | Jaguar XJ220 | | Exterior | Silverstone Green Metallic | | Interior | Sand Leather | | Mileage | 169 Miles | | Steering | Right-Hand Drive | | Engine | 3.5-Litre Twin-Turbocharged V6 | | Power | 542 BHP | | Transmission | 5-Speed Manual | | Drivetrain | Rear-Wheel Drive | | Registration | Never Registered | | Specialist | Don Law Racing | | Total Production | 281 Examples | | RHD Production | 69 Examples | Enquiries are invited from serious collectors seeking one of the most original and exceptionally low-mileage examples of Jaguar's legendary XJ220.
